

Eric Savasta has obtained his engineering degree in Electronics System in 1998 from Charles Fabry Institute in Marseille France.

Since Eric has experienced different jobs in microelectronics as designers and product engineering and project management.

Since more than 6 years, Eric is project Manager for the BroadBand Data Converter Business Unit within e2v Grenoble. He led development of several converters largely used today in different space programs as EV12DS130 Digital to Analog Converter working @3Gsps or as FP7 COMETS program.