Software Development Environment for the EGS-CC

This activity aimed at building a SDE for the development of the EGS-CC, its integration into users' systems and development of applications based on EGS-CC. The SDE is built from third party products and implements a development process specially adapted to the EGS-CC architecture which is component based and service oriented.