

μControllers applications within Thales Alenia Space products

Livia Esposti, Thales Alenia Space

Potential applications of μControllers within various kind of equipment developed by Thales Alenia Space are presented. The associated requirements are then derived. The presentation will address Monolithic device solutions for μController implementation, but also IP Core solution to be embedded in ASICs or FPGAs.